

ACWR is offering participants the opportunity to celebrate their work in a poster session during the 2024 Triennial Conference.

Poster presenters are asked to share on the topic of ecological activism and integral ecology found in Laudato Si', Pope Francis' 2015 encyclical which boldly stated the value of, urgency for, and approaches necessary to care for our common home in the face of climate change.

In acknowledgment of the connection between humans and our environment, the Laudato Si' Action Platform offers guidance for immediate action. For many years, women religious have embraced integral ecology and used their ministries to realize the goals stated in the Action Platform. Let's showcase their work from the past and the present!

To learn more about the goals of the Laudato Si' Action Platform, visit:

<https://laudatosi-actionplatform.org/laudato-si-goals/>.

Please submit proposals for the poster session to archivistsacwr@gmail.com by February 28, 2024.

Tips for Preparing for a Poster Session:

- Maximum size: 36" x 48"
- A limited number of easels will be available on a first-come, first-serve basis. If possible, please supply your own.
- Printed text is more legible than handwriting.
- Include a poster title, author, and institutional affiliation.
- Visual appeal is key! Use background, graphics & images.
- When possible, identify individuals, locations & dates of images & documents used.